

Give a title! game

The aim of the game:

To raise awareness of our stereotypes about different nations.

How it works:

The players of the national teams in an international group (like the TICKLE-group) are shown the pictures of children, one after the other. The groups are to give a title to selected pictures, using the name of different nationalities. The game helps to raise awareness of stereotypes and also to reflect upon them.

Swedish and finns are good brothers...
